

Wineries and Vineyards Driving Tour

For wine aficionados, there is a color palette of shades of red, white, and blush. You'll be amazed at the variety of wines to taste, with each winery producing their own distinctive flavors. Each winemaker has their own recipes, and even the age of the grapevines can influence flavor.

There's an added bonus of the rural landscape and scenic back roads along the way. Many of these locations are off the beaten path, and the scenic views will beckon you to explore all that the Hidden Valleys of Southwest Wisconsin has to offer.

■ 3 - SPURGEON VINEYARDS

16008 Pine Tree Rd, Highland | Grant County | 800.236.5555 | spurgeonvineyards.com

Glen and Mary Spurgeon planted their first vines more than 30 years ago, which grew to 16 acres filled with Aurora, Foch, Baco Noir, and Rosette, just to name a few. Their most popular wine is Ruby Lady, a sweet red. They also use other Wisconsin-grown fruits, like cherries and cranberries.

Don't miss their Harvest Fest in mid-October, complete with hayrides into the vineyard. The cooler in the tasting room and store features local cheeses and meats. Tours offered April through October. Visit 10 am-5 pm daily. Closed Easter, Thanksgiving, Christmas, and New Year's Day. *Member of Southwest Wine Trail

■ 4 - WHISPERING WINDS WINERY

13541 Blue School Rd, Fennimore | Grant County | 608.943.9941 | whisperingwindswinery.com

A scenic setting provides for a most memorable experience when visiting winemaker Jim Eisele's Whispering Winds Winery. Sip on one of Jim's handcrafted wines while relaxing on the deck, or while enjoying the view from the large viewing windows in the remodeled winery. Try the popular Drupeberry, an infusion of 4 flavors, or choose from a wide array of wines. Groups welcome! Reservations for over 20 accepted with ample bus parking.

April-November: Wednesday-Sunday 10 am-5 pm. December-March: Friday-Sunday 10 am - 5 pm. *Member of Southwest Wisconsin Wine Trail

■ 5 - BOTHAM VINEYARDS

8180 Langberry Rd, Barneveld | Iowa County | 888.478.9463 | bothamvineyards.com

Botham's vine-to-bottle has been a fundamental part of our wine-making philosophy for more than 25 years. We grow red wines: lovely, earthy, fruit-forward and regionally distinctive wines. We also produce white wines. Visit our tasting room and sample our wines; we look forward to welcoming you.
